Good News! Local Art Gallery Opens!

Daniela Mauleon

Do you like art or you are just a curious person? Well, there is a new art gallery in our neighborhood! Good News Only is an art gallery where people can go and see the pictures that are on display on one side and on the other wall people will see big posters with questions such as "What is art?" or "Who is an artist?" and every person that goes to the gallery must answer the questions.

Good News Only opened their doors last summer with two purposes: involve teenagers in art and to make sure that the people of the community have fun with art. Elizabeth Shank, the owner of Good News Only gallery, works with teenagers that are in high school.

The gallery is a non-profit business, which means that she doesn't get any money for this job. When asked why she does this work with out a salary she explained that the people that work in non-profits truly believe in a specific mission and want to share with the community to help improve the lives of others. This is why she started the Good News Only gallery.

So when you are in high school and you want to join Good News Only and have trips and fun with art then stop by and sign up. But students in any grade may come by and enjoy the exhibitions. Just visit the Good News Only gallery on 5604 North Ridge Avenue in Edgewater or visit online at <http://gnonly.com/>.
